Application for Tattoo Letters and Herd Name—Part 3 of 4

Membership name _____

Membership ID (if known) _____

Tattoo Letters

Tattoo letters are required to register Angus cattle. Please choose two, three or four letters that will be authorized for your exclusive use in tattooing the right ears of your registered Angus cattle. The use of the letter “Q” is not permitted in tattoo letter combinations. The top row of the right ear tattoo will contain the breeder’s registered tattoo letters, the bottom row will contain a 1, 2, 3 or 4 digit number followed by the year letter that corresponds to the year the animal was born.

1st choice: _____

2nd choice: _____

3rd choice: _____

Herd Name

Members of the Canadian Angus Association are required to apply to register a herd name for use when naming your Angus cattle. Words like “Farm”, “Angus”, “Ranch”, or “Ltd.” cannot be part of a registered herd name. A herd name should be 16 or less characters, and cannot start with the word RED. The herd name must be the first word (after RED, if it’s a red animal) in the animal’s name.

For example, a member whose farm name is Sunny Day Angus Ranch may choose to register the herd name Sunny Day, and therefore include Sunny Day when naming calves: Red Sunny Day Bluebird. Herd names can be shared between family members if written consent is provided.

Canadian Angus Performance Program (CAPP) Application Form—Part 4 of 4

The Canadian Angus Performance Program is a voluntary evaluation program whereby breeders collect and submit growth, fertility and carcass information. In return, breeders receive performance and genetic evaluations for their animals including adjusted weights, in-herd ranks and ratios, and expected progeny differences (EPDs). The program provides participants with selection tools that will help propel them towards their breeding goals.

The performance program is based on the principals of whole herd reporting; therefore, members are required to submit complete herd inventory information and weaning weights for all calves per season. Members are also encouraged to submit yearling weight and ultrasound scanning data to strengthen the EPDs for their animals.

The fees associated with participating in the performance program are a $2/head weaning weight administration fee and yearly $25 membership fee.

To enroll into the Canadian Angus Performance Program, please complete fill in the information below and submit it to the office.
